Benchmarking Analysis

Overview

ETC Institute's DirectionFinder[®] program was originally developed in 1999 to help community leaders across the United States use statistically valid community survey data as a tool for making better decisions. Since November 1999, the survey has been administered in more than 1,000 cities and counties in 49 states.

This report contains benchmarking data from two sources. The first source is from a national survey that was administered by ETC Institute during the fall and winter of 2021 to a random sample of more than 9,000 residents in the continental United States. The second source is from a regional survey administered to a random sample of more than 950 residents in the Atlantic Region of the United States during the fall and winter of 2021. The states that make up the Atlantic Region are North Carolina, Virginia, West Virginia, Delaware, Maryland, District of Columbia, and New Jersey.

The “U.S. Average” shown in the charts reflects the overall results of ETC Institute’s national survey of more than 9,000 residents; the “Atlantic Regional Average” shown in the charts reflects the results of the regional survey of more than 950 residents in the Atlantic Region.
